Miss Lois Boyd, daughter of the Rev. Robert Warren Boyd and Mrs. Boyd, and Harry Goodwin Gaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Pennybaker Gaw, were married yesterday morning at 9 o'clock at the Finley Memorial Church, near Stuart's Draft, of which the bride's father is pastor. The quaint old church was transformed into a veritable bower of summer flowers, and the altar was banked in fragrant roses and evergreens. Mrs. John McChesney, organist, rendered the wedding marches. The bride's father performed the ceremony in the presence of only the bride party and the immediate family, owing to the frail health of Mrs. Boyd.

Both bride and groom are widely and prominently related throughout the State, and their marriage yesterday is of the greatest interest to society here. Mrs. Gaw is a gifted young physician, and the five years since her graduation from the Woman's Medical School of Baltimore, have been spent as a resident physician at Winthrop College, in South Carolina. Mr. Gaw is a prominent planter of the Valley of Virginia, and has a great many friends in this city.

Ryan-Oakey. Another out-of-town wedding of interest to Richmond society yesterday was that of Miss Nellie K. Oakey, daughter of Mrs. Margaret M. Oakey, to Norval W. Ryan, of Shawsville. The ceremony took place last evening at 8 o'clock in the Methodist Episcopal Church at Salem, the Rev. J. Harry Smith, officiating, and Miss Claudine Ferguson played the wedding march and Schubert's "Serenade" during the marriage service. The altar was adorned with trailing vines, lighted candles and palms, and standards of flowers marked the family pews. The bride entered the church with her brother, O. D. Oakey, of Salem, who also gave her away. Her gown was a mauve traveling suit with hat and gloves to match, and she carried an arm bouquet of white roses. Mrs. Frank P. Niffler, of Bristol, Tenn., who was her sister's matron of honor, was crowned in white tulle and carried a bouquet of white roses. The bridesmaids were white tulle hats, and the groomsmen were white tulle hats. The groomsmen were Charles Beamer, of Roanoke; Robert Glens, of Olaf; W. H. Oakey, of Salem, and Dr. J. D. Gardner, of Shawsville.

Mr. and Mrs. Ryan, following a wedding journey, will reside at their new home now in process of erection, near the old estate of the groom's family.
